

H Hahnemann University HOSPITAL

At Hahnemann University Hospital, a Level I trauma center and teaching facility in Philadelphia, PA, our nurses have a voice and the power to drive real change. In short, we empower nurses to provide the kind of care they've always wanted – and we appreciate the contribution they make to the health and healing of our patients. Find out what it means to be a Hahnemann nurse.

RN Clinical Coordinators

Working in our Heart Failure/Transplant program, you'll serve our outpatient clinic population and also collaborate with physicians on inpatient rounding. We currently have two opportunities:

Heart Failure: You'll handle management of heart failure patients with the opportunity to cross-train in heart transplant. Requires prior heart failure experience. This position may be full-time or part-time.

Kidney Transplant: You'll guide patients and their families through the emotionally and physically challenging transplant procedure, including evaluation, transplantation and post-transplant follow-up. Requires prior transplant experience.

To join the Hahnemann team, please apply at www.hahnemannhospital.com and click on Careers.