

ON CALL WITH

Veronica Langhorne

Global Claims Manager

18 Years of Service at Hahnemann University Hospital

What does your role as a global claims manager involve?

I am responsible for reimbursing physicians for services rendered at Hahnemann University Hospital and St. Christopher's Hospital for Children that are covered under the hospital global contract.

What do you like about working at Hahnemann?

The relationships that I have built over the years with my co-workers and physician groups have made my time at Hahnemann meaningful. The ability to effectively communicate with colleagues to reach a common goal plays a huge part in the success of our hospital.

What made you decide to work in healthcare?

I landed in healthcare accidentally as a young college student seeking work on spring break. The environment intrigued me, and those few weeks turned into a lasting career.

What are your hobbies?

I enjoy hosting family and friends for outings where we can catch up, enjoy good food and drinks, and play board and card games.

What's the last book you read?

Queen Pin by Jemeker Thompson